COMMUNICATION

The word communication comes from the verb communicate, which means to give or exchange information, news, ideas or opinions by speech or writing. In other words, communication is the sending of information or news from one person to another, or the exchange of such information or news between people.

Through communication people learn from one another the things they want to know. Imagine if human beings could not communicate with one another if a person cannot communicate, he will not talk with other people, and no other people will talk to him or teach him anything.

So it would be impossible for him to learn anything. Can he learn anything by himself? It can, but difficult. How could a child learn to do 'anything at all if he did not have the chance to communicate with other people, especially with his parents, brothers and sisters? he would not learn to talk and would not learn to do any other things either. Someone must teach the child. In other words, someone must communicate knowledge and skills to the child.
